What Are You Good For?

Based on the book Leprechaun in Late Winter by Mary Pope Osborne

In the story, the butler and cook ask Jack and Annie, “What are you good for?” They both struggle to answer the question. They do not know how to do any of the chores that children would do in the nineteenth century. By the end of the story, Jack and Annie can say what they are good for.

Think about it. Make a list to organize your thoughts.
Then write - What are you good for?
